'Uncontrolled population growth, main hurdle in progress: Prof Mude

Prof Vijay Mude delivering lecture on Population growth

■ Our Correspondent
BRAMHAPURI, July 13

"THE uncontrolled growth in population is the main hurdle on the way to progress. The people will be deprived of basic requirements and amenities as limited natural resources will not cope with increasing population. It is urgent need to spread awareness on population control," exhorted Prof Vijay Mude a senior journalist. He was speaking in World Population Day programme held in Nevjabai Hitkarini College under the joint auspices of Population Education Club, Women Study Centre, NSS and NCC units on Tuesday. Dr. Dhananjay Gahane, Principal, presided over the programme. On the occasion Ashok Bhailya, Secretary of Education Society, Dr. Harsha Kanfode, Principal, Dr. Subhash Shekhar, Dr. Prakash Watti, Dr.

Ajit Khajgiwale, and Dr. Padmakar Wankhede were present on the dias.

The smart classroom was inaugurated at the hands of Ashok Bhailya. In the function the meritorious students excelling in various examinations Laxman Thakre, Prachi Inkane, Mangesh Jarate, Rohit Dighore, and Jayshree Satore were felicitated.

Prof. Varsha Chandanshive who was recently honoured with doctorate degree in Political Science was felicitated. Dr. Gill, Li Abhijit Parkarwar, Dr. Bhaskar Lengure, Dr. Dhanraj Khanorkar, Prof. Rupesh Wakodkar, Prof. Balaji Damkondwar, Prof. Milind Pathade, Prof. Akash Meshram, Dr. Sunil Choudhary and Prof. Parate extended their cooperation in the organisation of the event. AIDS Day

Prevention of AIDS is the only solution :- Principal Dr D.H Gahane (The Statement made by him during the presidential guidance in the program organized by N.H College Bramhapuri, National Service Scheme and Red Ribbon Club.)

AIDS is an old disease. But the symptoms of this disease are terrible. This disease is caused by blood infection. For this, awareness should be created in our family as well as in the society. There is still no panacea for this disease, prevention is the only solution. Dr DH Gahane, principal of the college asserted this. Dr. Shubash Shekokar, Dr. RK Dange, Dr. Rekha Meshram, Dr. TK Gedam, Dr. Prakash Watt, Prof. Jayesh Hazare, Prof. Dalesh Parshuramkar, Prof. Anand Bhoir, Mrs. Sangita Thackeray and Dr. Kishore Naktode were present on the dias. Prof. Jayesh Hazare, the chief guest of the program, he said does not want to celebrate the AIDS program but to understand its scope and find preventive measures on how to curb the disease. The severity of this disease is frightening. Today, even if its symptoms are not visible, this disease is terrible. It requires immunity. By giving such detailed information, fundamental guidance was given that control of the disease is the need of the hour. The program was moderated by Dr. Kishore Naktode and vote of thanks was given by Dr. Prakash Watt. Dr. Vivek Nagbhikar, Prof. Abhimanyu Pawar, Dr. K.K Gill worked hard to organize the program. Dr. Aslam Sheikh, Dr. Mohan Kapgate, Dr. Bhaskar Lengure, Dr. Sunil Chaudhary, Dr. Yogesh Thawari, Dr. Yuvraj Meshram, and all faculty and non-teaching staff students were present in the program.

Public Ganesh Festival and Cleanliness Management

In Bramhapuri, the public Ganesh festival is celebrated at three locations. On this occasion, large fairs are organized in the city, leading to significant waste and pollution due to plastic usage. To address this issue, the National Service Scheme (NSS) department conducts cleanliness drives at all three locations, ensuring the cleanliness and management of the area. This initiative has been continuously carried out for the past five years. Around 200 students and three professors participate in this campaign. Dr. Prakash Watt, Prof.Vivek Nagbhidkar, and Prof.Abhimanyu Pawar are present during these activities.

Revolution Day (Pulwama Martyrs' Day)

On this day, the National Service Scheme (NSS) department paid tribute to the soldiers who were martyred in Pulwama in 2016. The program was chaired by Dr.Shubhash Shekokar, who, while honouring the martyrs, remarked that while the youth were busy celebrating Valentine's Day, our soldiers were sacrificing their lives for the motherland. He expressed his respect for all the martyrs who fought for the service of the motherland, particularly those who were martyred in Pulwama.

The event was organized by NSS volunteers, with Dr. Prakash Watti and other volunteers were present at the event.

Voting Registration

India's history is one of bravery and sacrifice, but the responsibility of taking the country forward lies on the youth. India is a democratic nation, and in a democracy, every individual has great importance. It is essential to elect a good government for transparent governance. Hence, participation in the democratic process, particularly through voting, is crucial, and voter registration is necessary for this.

These thoughts were shared by Mrs.Usha Chaudhary, Tehsildar of the Revenue Department, Bramhapuri, during a program jointly organized by Nevjabai Hitkarini College, Bramhapuri, the National Service Scheme (NSS), and the Revenue Department. The event was presided over by Dr. D.H. Gahane, Principal of Nevjabai Hitkarini College, Bramhapuri, with key attendees Dr.Subhash Shekokar, Dr. V.V.Chandanshive, Prof.Abhimanyu Pawar, and Dr.Rekha Meshram.

On this occasion, Dr. D.H. Gahane emphasized the importance of youth contributions to the country's development. The event was compered by Prof.Abhimanyu Pawar, while the vote of thanks was delivered by Dr. Prakash Watti. Dr.Vivek Nagbhidkar and the NSS volunteers ensured the success of the event, which was attended by over 200 people.
